Circus & Solstice

On Thursday 21 June, the Gallery celebrates its first Thursday Lates event in circus style. Late opening to 8.30pm allows for a host of fun including refreshments and gigantic lawn games on the Merrion Square forecourt accompanied by a special outdoor performance by the acrobatic comedy duo Lords of Strut at 6pm and demonstrations by members of the Dublin Circus Project. Moving indoors, DJ Dermot Kelly will spin tunes in the courtyard and the fabulous Tropical Popical will create nail art inspired by the Circus250 exhibition. A variety of offerings will follow on select Thursdays. See nationalgallery.ie

Corporate Partners

In March 2018, Zurich was announced as title sponsor for the annual Zurich Portrait Prize, which invites entries from all artists living in Ireland, and Irish artists abroad (closing date 22 June 2018, see nationalgallery.ie). A new three-year Premier Corporate Partnership with Ryanair was launched in April. And this May, Maples and Calder became the first legal firm to join the Gallery's Corporate Partnership Programme. They will support the newly branded Creative Space in the Gallery's Atrium.

Corporate partners to the Gallery are entitled to a wide range of unique benefits, T + 353 (0)1 632 5521 / 632 5535 E development@ngi.ie

French Colour

Our major exhibition opening 18 July will bring the bright hues of lush French landscapes into the Gallery. Be transported to a cornfield in Brittany, or share Van Gogh's view of Paris, in Roderic O'Connor and the Moderns. Between Paris and Pont-Aven. See over 60 works by this innovative Irish modern master, and his contemporaries such as Émile Bernard, Maurice Denis and Paul Gauguin. Early bird tickets from €5, on sale from 11 June 2018, nationalgallery.ie

9 June - 14 October 2018

Hugh Lane Room (31) | Free admission

This year throughout Ireland and the UK, Circus250 celebrates the 250th anniversary of the original circus, established by Philip Astley in London in 1768. The exciting atmosphere of the striped big top with its colourful characters, bright lights and daring performances is one which many artists have tried to capture, some of them frantically sketching in their pocket sketchpads from their seats in the crowd, all the better to record the action in the ring. As part of Circus250, the Gallery offers an exhibition of works by Irish artists like Mainie Jellett, Martin Gale RHA, Harry Kernoff, and Jack B. Yeats. Circus posters and programmes from the archives will enhance the display.

Public Programme

To bring the fun and spectacle of the big top to the Gallery, we have exciting performances, film screenings and workshops, including a residency by graphic designer and illustrator Steve Simpson. Pick up a free brochure in the Gallery.

The Gallery is delighted to present a major show on Irish artist Roderic O'Connor (1860-1940). This is the first exhibition in over 30 years to explore his works across all media, with paintings, drawings and etchings from his years in Paris and Brittany (1886-1904), when he was a prominent member of the Pont-Aven school of artists.

The exhibition will include works by O'Connor's contemporaries like Paul Gauguin, Émile Bernard and Maurice Denis, and will cast new light on his link with Van Gogh.

The exhibition of over 60 major artworks offers a colourful array of French scenes charting the work of O'Connor and his contemporaries. It will feature Van Gogh's Champ de blé aux bleuet (Wheatfield with Cornflowers), 1890; Roderic O'Connor's Field of Corn, Pont-Aven, 1892; and Paul Gauguin's Bowl of Fruit and Tankard before a Window, c.1890. It also includes significant works by the gifted Swiss artist Cuno Amiet who worked alongside, and was influenced by, O'Connor.

O'Connor was born in Roscommon, but spent much of his early working life between Paris and rural art colonies such as Grez and Pont-Aven. The distinctive style that he developed in the 1890s owed a debt to the French avant-garde, but also influenced younger artists. The exhibition celebrates O'Connor as an artist of international merit.

Vincent van Gogh (1853-1890), Champ de blé aux bleuet (Wheatfield with Cornflowers), 1890, Fondation Beyeler, Riehen/Basel, Beyeler Collection.

Acquisitions

Niall Naessens, Harvest Moon and Blackthorn,
© Niall Naessens

Recent additions to the Gallery's collection include three works by Niall Naessens (b.1961). Harvest Moon and Blackthorn, 2017; Caherconree Snow Covered and a Shower of Hail, 2017; and Landscape Still from Super 8 Film, 2017 all featured in our January 2018 exhibition 'Good Morning Mister Turner' - Niall Naessens and J.M.W. Turner.

Patrons of Irish Art

In March 2018 the Gallery welcomed our Patrons to an exclusive viewing of two wonderful works of Irish Art: Elizabeth Corbet Yeats, c.1899, by John Butler Yeats and Seated Woman, 1964, by Colin Middleton. Acquisition of these paintings was made possible by the wonderful support of our Patrons. In a private visit to our Conservation Department, Dr Brendan Rooney, Head Curator and Simone Mancini, Head of Conservation, explained the importance of these two additions to the national collection.
