Further Terms and Conditions

20. By entering the Zurich Portrait Prize the artist irrevocably agrees to be bound by these Rules.
21. The artist warrants that (i) the portrait complies with all of the eligibility and entry requirements set out in these Rules; (ii) the artist is the owner of and holds the copyright in the portrait; and (iii) the owner irrevocably consents to, and has obtained the irrevocable consent of the sitter to, use the portrait and the sitter's personal details in the manner set out in these Rules.

22. The copyright in all portraits exhibited in the Zurich Portrait Prize (Prize) will remain the property of the artist. However, it is a condition of entry that the Gallery and our partner shall have a non-exclusive, transferable, sub-licensable, royalty-free, irrevocable licence: (i) to reproduce images of the artworks for publicity, educational, reference and all broadcast and digital purposes in connection with the Prize, catalogue, possible tour and any subsequent publications; (ii) to provide images to third parties such as national and international press/broadcasters in connection with the Prize; (iii) to use a representation of the winning artwork for any advertising, marketing, promotional or other purposes; and (iv) to permit the Sponsor to create and distribute 20 copies of the winning artwork to persons of its choosing. Should the Gallery decide to produce commercial products containing or comprising copies of artworks for sale (such as posters, postcards etc.), a standard royalty will be offered to the artists as well as a set number of copies for their own use.
23. Artists selected for the shortlist will be required to submit a description of their artwork of 80 (maximum) words and a biography of 100 (maximum) words. This text will be reproduced and printed for the artwork's wall label and for the exhibition catalogue. Gallery editors are permitted to edit the artists' text for the wall label and catalogue. However, if a large part of the text requires rewriting, or if the content is unclear, Gallery editors will email the edited piece to the artist for review, who in turn will revert to the Gallery within five working days before the final text goes to print. If the Gallery editors do not hear back from the artist within five working days, then it will be assumed that the proposed text is acceptable to the artist.
24. Shortlisted artists will be asked to provide the Gallery with headshots.
25. The Gallery and our partner may, but shall not be obliged to, film and broadcast the processes of the prize. The artist irrevocably consents to their portrait, as well as footage of the artist, being included in such filming, whether broadcast or not. The artist acknowledges that all intellectual property rights and any other rights in such footage will vest in the Gallery and that Gallery shall be entitled without reference to the artist or the artist's sitter, to edit such footage as it sees fit and to distribute it in any media anywhere in the world. The artist hereby irrevocably waives all and any performers' moral rights and any other similar rights which may be vested in the artist in respect of his/her contribution to such footage in favour of the Gallery and its successors and assigns.
26. Artists selected for the shortlist may be required to complete a model release form stating that they have permission for the image to be reproduced in accordance with these Rules.

27. The Gallery and our partner are not responsible for any damage to or loss of an artwork, however caused.
28. All shortlisted artists agree to participate in such promotional activity as is reasonably requested by the Gallery and our partner. Please be aware that this includes, but is not limited to, the Gallery's education and public engagement activities.
29. All portraits are left in the National Gallery of Ireland & our partner venue, Crawford Art Gallery, Cork, at the owner's risk, this includes transport between the two exhibition venues. The Governors and Guardians of the National Gallery of Ireland and the board of our partner nor any member of staff of the National Gallery of Ireland and our partner shall be held liable for any loss or damage to the portraits however caused.
30. All shortlisted artworks must be delivered display-ready to the Gallery by late - August (date to be confirmed). They will remain in the Gallery until the closure of the Zurich Portrait Prize exhibition on 21 March 2021. Following the exhibition at the National Gallery of Ireland, the works will travel to our partner venue, Crawford Art Gallery, Cork, where they will be displayed from 17 April to 11 July 2021.
31. Artworks must be delivered to the National Gallery of Ireland by the artist or a named representative on a date arranged by the Gallery. Artworks cannot be delivered by a courier service.
32. Shortlisted works must be available for both exhibitions at the National Gallery of Ireland and our partner venue, Crawford Art Gallery, Cork.
33. The transport of works between venues will be facilitated by the National Gallery of Ireland and our partner.
34. Shortlisted works cannot be collected or reclaimed prior to the closure of either exhibition.
35. If the artist does not collect his/her portrait after the exhibition closes at the agreed venue (National Gallery of Ireland or Crawford Art Gallery) and within the time period that has been communicated, the Gallery and our partner shall have the right to dispose of the artwork if the artwork has not been reclaimed within 6 months after the closure of the last exhibition.
36. The winning artist will be awarded a prize of €15,000 and will be required to undertake a commission to produce a portrait of a sitter chosen by the National Gallery of Ireland, for which they will be paid €5,000. If the winner cannot be contacted or does not claim the prize within 30 days of notification, the Gallery reserves the right to withdraw the prize from the winner and select an alternative winner.

37. A prize-giving ceremony is scheduled to take place at the Gallery on 1 December 2020. Shortlisted artists will receive an invitation for an additional two people for the prize-giving ceremony.
38. The decisions of the judges are final and binding and no correspondence will be entered into in relation to such decisions. Feedback will not be available whether an artist is shortlisted or not.
39. The Gallery reserves the right to disqualify any artwork at any time if the artist has not adhered to these Rules, even if the work has been shortlisted or selected as the winner.
40. Data Protection. The Artist hereby acknowledges and agrees that any personal data provided to the Gallery pursuant to, or in connection with, these Terms and Conditions, including personal data relating to the Artist and the Sitter, may be processed by the Gallery and our partner (or third party processors on their behalf) for the following purposes:
 - a) for the performance of these Terms & Conditions, including, where applicable, processing payment;
 - b) where applicable, for recording the accessioning of the Work and any commissioned work produced by the winner of the Competition in the National Collection, in line with the Gallery's obligations under the National Gallery of Ireland Acts 1854 to 1963;
